MORE ROOM NEEDED

To Properly Accommodate the Growing Business of the City.

RENTS BOOSTED BY THE TENANTS. Who Think Nothing Can be Done Outside the Area of the Charmed Circle. THE NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE CITY

Although the business of Pittsburg has increased many fold during the past decade, its growth would have been greater if it had not been confined to a comparatively small part of the city, called, by the way of distinction, the "business center." The idea, entertained by many, that goods cannot be sold anywhere outside of this charmed circle has been handed down from father to son for generations. Hence many look upon it as ruinous to break over this unwritten law of trade and try new districts.

This is a fallacy, as can be demonstrated by many instances, not only in Pittsburg, but in other cities. But the fault lies to a great extent at the doors of the owners. If they would break away from the few squares on Fifth avenue, Wood, Smithfield and Sixth streets, which comprise the so-called business center, and put up suitable buildings in other localities trade would soon follow and the pres-sure on the downtown district be removed. The growth of the city eastward for several years has been such as to make it comparatively easy to form a business center on almost any of the principal streets. Leaders are all that are necessary to bring about this diversion, which s desirable from every point of view.

But tenants are also to blame for perpetuating the toolish notion that business cannot be done outside of a certain spot that is hardly big enough for a cemetery, into which they crowd and justice as if their lives depended upon getand jostle as if their lives depended upon ger-ting there. What is the result? By so doing they elevate rents to a dizzy altitude without receiving corresponding benefits. There is a firm on Fifth avenue that pays a rental of about $30,000 a year, at least two-thirds of which it could save by locating on almost any of the cheaper streets. This could be done without the less of a single customer. The saving in the item of rent which would result from this change would in a few years amount to a hand-some fortune.

me fortune. By huddling together on the streets that have By huddling together on the streets that have been named tenants give owners every opportunity to put up rents, and they would be more than human if they did not do it. If trade would scatter and follow the drift of population, whether toward the East End or the West End, owners would have no such advantage. It is apparent to everyone that the business portion of the city must be enlarged, and the sconer did is done the better. Those who posses the way and locate in new territory will have advantages over their tardy competitors which nothing can overcome.

Business News and Gossip. A prominent Pittsburger is said to have lost $39 5.0 by the collapse of the Southern Cali-formia land boom. If he had invested at home he would have tared better. A new plan of lots in the Emsworth district is being surveyed and put in shape for the market next spring.

W. A. Herron & Sons say: "There is plenty of money to loan on first-class mortgages, but lenders are inclined to stiffen rates. Still, when a man-comes along with first-class property he can do about as well as he could six months ago. On small sums 6 per cent is the usual rate, but larger amounts are somewhat shaded." Real estate is literally snowed under, but buyers will have it if they have to dig it out.

This great interest cannot be downed by a name bad weather.

It is understood that $30,000 is the price asked for the St. Michael Seminary property—about nine acres near Glenwood. This an advance of $5,000 ever former figures.

Citizens of Neville Island, fearing a flood, are preparing for it on the theory that a stitch in time saves nine. The bridge is believed to be accurre.

The announcement that the caucus of the Republican Senators in Washington had agreed on conservative financial measures added materially to the feeling of confidence this morning, and bankers here consider that if these measures be passed a great deal of gold that has been withheld from the market will be returned to it. The room traders continue to resist the advance, however, and the short interest in many stocks is now very large, which takes advantage of every little opportunity to make a point against the market, and this morning, because London failed to respond fully to our rise of last evening and came lower, the opening was made at declines of from ½ to ½ per cent generally, with special losses of 1 per cent in Pacific Mail, and 1½ in Louisville and Nashville.

The former was only a natural reaction after The former was only a natural reaction after the sharp upward movement of yesterday, but the latter was artificial and in sympathy with the lower London prices. The market, however, rallied from the first sales, and there was good, though light, buying throughout the day, which kept prices moving almost steadily in the upward disjection, notwithstanding the specific drives at Rock Island, Atchison and Lackawanns.

Status Unsettled.

New York, Dec. 18.—The stock market to-day showed no change in its general character istics from those of the previous few days, being dull and narrow, but withal firm to strong, and the final changes of the day, while somewhat irregular and generally for fractional amounts only, are in most cases in the direction of higher figures.

One of the most prominent features of the market at present is due to a variety of causes, but chiefly to the fact that the direction of the various railroads are acting promptly in voting for the new agreement, and so far no opposition to it has developed in any direction.

The announcement that the caucus of the Republican Senators in Washington had agreed on conservative financial measures added materially to the feeling of confidence this morning, and bankers here consider that if these measures be passed a great deal of guld that has been withheld from the market will be returned to it. The weakness of sugar, already noted in this column, still continues, and prices are a shade lower in Eastern markets. Coffees are fairly steady. The wholesale grocer trade is scarcely as active as it was a few weeks ago. The hand-to-mouth policy is being followed by retail dealers, as is natural when money has such a value as now. There is little probability of any active movement until after January settle-

NO EFFECT ON IRON. The Market Very Dull Despite the Financial Improvement.

SMALL SALES AT LOW PRICES.

No Business is Looked for Until the Middle of January.

STATE OF FOREIGN METAL MARKETS

SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. NEW YORK, Dec. 18 .- The Iron Age's weekly report of the American iron and metal markets is as follows:

The improvement in the financial situation is giving general encouragement, but it has not as yet had any effect on the iron trade. In fact, some of the results of the stringency have only come to the surface now in the shape of occasional forced sales. In nearly every line the markets have been wofully dull, and little improvement is expected until the second or third week in January.

American Pig—The market has been irregular, and reports of sales at low prices are numerous. It is stated that they are confined to lots for immediate delivery, but we have reason to believe that metal for delivery next year could be purchased at a concession. It is known that several lots of Northern iron are pressed for sale, and there has been considerable irregularity in prices in Southern iron. We quote $18 75@17 50 for No. 1. 16@16 50 for No. 2 Northern iron. Southern may be quoted at $16 50@17 for No. 1 foundry: $15 50@16 25 for No. 2. Northern iron. Southern may be quoted at $16 50@17 for No. 1 foundry: $15 50@16 25 for No. 2, and $14 50@14 75 for No. 3.

Spiegeleisen and Ferro Manganese—The market is lifeless. The rail mills are understood to be well supplied with spiegel for some time to come, so that $23 50, the figure at which the last small sale was made, may remain the nominal quotation. Ferro is duli at $62@63.

Steel Ralls—Askie from small lots sold at $28, we hear of no transactions. Rumors of low sales have, however, been numerous enough. Amone them are reports of sales at $27 50, and even $27. We do not believe them, because the mills are still working at their organization. A meeting was held in Philadelphia last week without leading to any result, the Eastern and Western mills being represented. This afternoon an adjourned meeting is going on at the Windsor Hotel in this city.

Billets—The market is very dull. Reports from the West continue very disquieting. It is evident that a leading concern in Pittsburg, has been raiding the market, and has taken every order in sight for delivery during the first quarter of the year at low prices. It is stated that $26 has been shaded in Pittsburg, and it is rumored that as low as $25 50 has been accepted.

Old Rails—The market is absolutely feature or third week in January.

American Pig—The market has been irregu-accepted.

Old Rails—The market is absolutely feature-less. We have not heard of any transaction of any consequence, although old rails are still offered at $22.

THE MARKET STILL SLOW. But Little Improvement Visible in Foreign

report of the foreign iron and metal markets is as follows: London prices for warrants have ruled irregular on a fair volume of business. Scotch show an improvement at 46s. 7d. on latest transactions, while Cleveland have varied but little from 42s. 9d.@43s., and hematites have stood at about 5is.@54. 3d. Apart from fairly stood at about 54s.@34. 3d. Apart from fairly large buying for the South of England account, operations have been unimportant. The statistical position continues to steadily improve. Stocks in Connal's stores decreased 6,030 tons last week, Several Scotch steel works will probably be closed after the holidays and remain idle until blast furnaces restart. Lower prices are named on raffs, but other forms of steel are without change. Last week's liquidation of old contracts appears to have cleared off weak holdings of pig tin, and that fact, coupled with covering of bear sales, has served to improve the market. Prices have advanced about £15a. Stocks are closely controlled and chiefly in strong hands. Still a rather weakish tone was apparent at the close.

Prices for copper dropped early in the week, owing to pressure to sell by holders and manipulation by the bear interest, arising from the unfavorable condition of other markets and rumors that larger supplies are likely to come from America at probably lower prices. Consumers are still very cautions buyers, but speculation has improved somewhat the past few days, sending prices of merchant bars to £54 spot, £54 10s futures. Furnace material has been selling at low rates, buring the past fortnight there have been sales of 500 tons of Anaconda matte on private terms; 200 tons do at 10s, 44d., and 400 tons do at 10s, 3d. Smelters are disinclined to buy freely at the reduced figures. It is reported that the Ric Tinto Company has contracted to freely at the reduced figures. It is reported that the Rio Tinto Company has contracted to deliver to the States 200,000 tons of low-grade pyrites containing 8 per cent of copper. English stock of copper has decreased 1,410 tons, and the European visible supply 1,609 tons during the past fortnight.

There has been a rather large business in tin plate at the lower rates established last week, and inquiries are more numerous at the present time, but the demand from the States is noticeably slack. Most of the works are well employed on orders, and some makers refuse to make any concession from old prices. The labor dispute at the Glamorgan works has been adjusted.

A GRADUAL DECLINE

Visible in the Coke Trade, Despite a Small Spurt-Operators Endeavoring to Limit Production-Over 4,000 Ovens Are Now

Idle in the Region. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. SCOTTDALE, Dec. 11.—It is becoming more obvious that the coke market is undergoing a decline. It has not yet, however, assumed the appearance of a lull, and if a few of the barriers could be removed it would, no doubt, glide along in old-time form. Every effort is being made by the producers to limit production to the demand. Despite the many drawbacks, business in the region toned up somewhat toward the latter part of the week under review, and a creditable showing was the result. The demand is fairly active from the western and Pittsburg districts, although it has been materially lessened by the idleness of several large furnaces. The Eastern demand has been falling off for several weeks, due mainly to the actions of furnacemen, who had become dissatisfied with the coke prices. The car famine is still perplexing the trade, though the railroad companies continue to promise better things in this line. Several plants were forced to lay off a couple of days this week on account of inadequate transportation, notably, the big Morewood plant, which was idle two days. Several works up the Sewickley branch were similarly affected. Speaking on the condition of the coke trade, an operator gave the following version of it to-day: "There is no denying the fact that there has been a perceptible falling off in the demand, though, in my opinion, to the prevailing car shortage can be attributed the unsatisfactory condition of affairs. Furnace men have been compelled to economize too much on receipts, and too much coke has been stocked on the yards throughout the region. Many operators are now endeavoring to rid themselves of sarplus coke by laying their works idle one and two days each week. If there has been in improvement in the car supply we have failed to receive any benefit therefrom."

It has been frequently reported that there has also been a lack of motive power as a feeder to the scant car supply, but railroad people state there is nothing of it. Five of the Schoonmaker Company works were idle one day this week on account of the overplus of coke, while view of the Frield Company's plants will be idle to the content of the overplus of coke, while vince of the Frield Company's plants will be riers could be removed it would, no doubt, glide along in old-time form. in Provisions. CHICAGO-The price of May wheat in the first bunch of transactions was at from $1 00% to $1 00%, but the opinion of the majority regarding the public importance of Kean & Co. was soon manifested in an advance to $1 00%. between which figures and $1 00% the trading f the next 20 minutes took place. By 10 o'clock fresh ground had been broken and $1 01% was paid for a few lots, with heavy trading at $1 01. Reports of damage to winter wheat from dry weather and Hessian fly were so numerous and from so wide an area as to create a feeling of Reports of damage to winter wheat from dry weather and Hessian fly were so numerous and from so wide an area as to create a feeling of uneasiness among the shorts.

The price from $101% worked off to $100%, recovered to $101, declined once more, touching on this stretch $100%. From the latter point there was another reaction in an upward direction to $100%, after which the tendency was mainly downward and $9% was the ruling price 15 minutes from the close. There was sufficient covering of shorts at the low point to insure a reaction of ½c, and the last quotation was $90% costs 100.

The corn market was nervous and unsettled at the opening, and there was a good attendance in the trading pit. It was a considerable time before the crowd began to realize that there was to be no contest to-day between the heavy weights in the deal, as the opinion of the majority of the local traders favored lower prices on the basis of supply and demand, and they became sellers as soon as the fear of manipulation was lifted from their minds. The opening price was at a fractional decline from the closing figures of the previous day. During the first 40 minutes the tendency was upward, and the price advanced to $45,254%, during the time wheat was showing its strongest phase. There was 1c decline in the course of the subsequent trading, and prices were at about the lowest point of the day as the session came to a close. The last price named in the pit was $5%. December which started such a commotion yesterday, was not mentioned more than once or twice in the course of the day, and only one trade at $254c was recorded. The Pardridge selling was continued through several brokers. Oats closed ½c lower than on the previous day. There was a general decline in all the speculative articles of provisions, and from a decline of moderate proportions at the opening the difference to the disadvantage of today's prices gradually widened from those of the preceding afternoon.
